911. 911 urgency, do you need police, fire or paramedics?

JB. police

911. where do you need the police?

JB. eh [REDACTED] it's not, it's not a great emergency it's self-harm eh

911. what do you mean

JB. if, (inaudible), my wife is trying to kill herself

911. 29

JB. ya

911. sorry [REDACTED]

JB. [REDACTED]

911. has she injured herself?

JB. I don't think so but she was alone in the room, she's run outside, she's screaming at the top of her lungs that she's gonna kill herself. She's bad for the children. Eh she has BPD
eh

911. sorry she has what?

JB. eh borderline personality disorder eh extreme mental instability as well as PTSD and a few other things and I'm really worried for her right now

911. eh does she have anything on her or in the house that she used to harm herself?

JB. I mean every household has knives and that but right now I'm in the house and she's out of it

911. ok did she say how she wanted to harm herself?

JB. eh no just that the world would be better without her, she's gonna kill herself, I have no idea. I have 3 children here so I can't run out into the night chasing her. is the problem, they're under 5 years old

911. eh what's her last name?

JB. Boyle, BOYLE

911. and what's her first name?

JB. mine or hers?

911. hers

JB. Caitlin, CAITLAN

911. and what's her date of birth please?

JB. is somebody on route?

911. yes sir

JB. just taking your time ok

911. sir hang on, I'm asking questions which

JB. ya

911. will help us ok?

JB. ya

911. so what

JB. November 2nd, 85. She's my wife, we've been married for eh, eh going on 10 years now, we have 3 children

911. ok

JB. in the house

911. ok, ok give me a description of her so we can find her

JB. ya eh brunette, eh she's wearing a scarf on her head, I don't think she has a coat on

911. eh what eh colour shirt is she wearing do you know?

JB. eh I honestly don't remember

911. do you remember anything about her clothing?

JB. eh like I said, she's probably got a like a hijab scarf on, a brown patterned, scarf over her hair. She has a nose ring

911. and how tall is she?

JB. eh average height and weight. She might have just run upstairs, I'm not sure. I thought I heard her on the balcony upstairs when she was screaming eh I stepped out to just like ask her to come back in and be quiet. She

911. ok

JB. was screaming and banging on things. I just, withdrew back in the house to call 9-1-1
eh

911. ok can you, do you know if she's in the house because eh she's also looking

JB. she's definitely not in the house. I'm in the house and she's definitely not in the house

911. ok but I thought you said you think she might have eh entered again

JB. no, no sorry, I think she might have entered sorry, the upstairs is a different apartment.

It's a strangers' so

911. oh

JB. I have no idea who it is

911. ok

JB. but she was banging on their windows and screaming and that

911. does she know the people who live upstairs?

JB. I don't think so but I don't know, it's possible she met them doing laundry once or something, I have no idea. I don't know them, I don't think she does

911. ok

JB. we try to keep things as low traumatic for the children as possible ideally

911. ya is your last name

JB. no sirens and that would be great.

911. ok. Is your last name the same, Boyle?

JB. ya Boyle, Joshua, 08-24-83

911. any idea where she might have gone if she didn't go into that apartment?

JB. eh no and I have no idea (inaudible) I don't, I'm not even sure if she has shoes on

911. ok

JB. I'm just poking my head out the doors looking for her up and down the street and I don't see her

911. are your children awake right now?

JB. sorry? The children are asleep right now

911 ok

JB. we were having an argument about child care and then it just turned into I'm not sure rabid self-loathing, eh panic attacks, something, I'm not sure. I'd asked her to stay in her room but because she was distressing the children, they were crying, getting upset. I told her please go in the bedroom, just stay there and go to bed. We'll talk in the morning if you're still sick in the morning, just stay in the room right now and like I won't come in. I'll 911 ok, alright. It shouldn't be long we'll get some officers to see you there ok?

JB. ok

911. ok?

JB. eh just try to be gentle with her

911. ok

JB. she is really going through a rough time

911. ya for sure

JB. ok

911. ok?

JB. alright
